

Water for LA

Water for LA is dedicated to inspiring and empowering everyone in Los Angeles County to protect our most precious resource: water. Through education and community engagement, we're working toward a future where everyone is an empowered water advocate who understands where their water comes from, how it's managed and how everyday actions shape our long-term water resilience.

FOR LA SM

Why Water Matters

- LA County relies on local groundwater, imported water and recycled water supplies.
- Drought, climate change and growing water demands affect our region's long-term water security.
- Everyday actions can help conserve water and protect local waterways.

Shaping a Sustainable Water Future

Our goal is to make it easier for people to care for the water that sustains us. Water for LA helps make complex water topics easy to understand, so people can make informed choices that protect our shared water resources.

Empowering Water Advocates

A sustainable water future depends on all of us. Being a water advocate means understanding the challenges our region faces and recognizing how everyday choices impact our shared water supply. With the right knowledge and tools, we can safeguard our water future.

- Appreciate the value of water and understand the systems that deliver it
- Conserve water through simple, everyday habits that stretch our limited supply
- Prevent pollution to keep rivers, lakes, streams, bays and beaches clean
- Support local water sustainability by learning about innovative stormwater and groundwater projects
- Build resilience to drought and extreme weather through informed, climate-smart behaviors
